CONTEXT OF THE COURSE IN THE STUDENT'S PROGRAM:

The present course is the second of the four English literature and composition courses and is part of the General Education courses. Its role is to teach students to read, analyze and write about a variety of literary texts including poetry, short stories, novels, essays, songs, plays and screenplays from different periods.

MINISTERIAL OBJECTIVES & STANDARDS:

The objective of this course is to enable students to distinguish literary genres of literary discourse, to identify the use of literary conventions within a specific genre, to situate a text within its historical and literary period and to explicate a text representative of a literary genre.

FINAL OBJECTIVE OF THE COURSE

CODE: 0004

On successful completion of the course, students, with the aid of reference material, will be able to produce a 1000-word essay in which they will apply a critical approach to a work representing a literary genre. This essay will demonstrate the following: correct grammar, syntax and spelling; appropriate tone and diction; and effective sentences and paragraphs. This essay will also demonstrate thorough revision of form and content. Students will also demonstrate the ability to discuss and to debate the meaning and importance of works of literature studied in the course.

TEACHING AND LEARNING STRATEGIES

The following teaching methods are used: pedagogy through questioning and discussion; lectures; panel and roundtable discussions; workshops, student presentations, and other activities to develop students' abilities to apply critical approaches to literary texts.

Learning activities include: close readings of texts or parts of texts, class and small group discussions of literary elements such as plot structure, character, tone, and style; class and small group applications of major critical approaches as tools of analysis of various works of literature and student presentations of their literary analyses.
